SAM'L CASHMAN IS FOUND DEAD

Former Breckinridge County
Man Dies in Kokomo, Ind.
Wins High Tribute.

Samuel Cashman, aged 62 years, 926 East Monroe street, father-in-law of Clarence Hunt, manager of the Thalman & Levi store, was found dead this morning at 6:30 o'clock, by Paul Gattis, window trimmer lying in front of the hosiery counter, where he had fallen after being fatally stricken with apoplexy while on his rounds of the store as night watchman. Mr. Cashman was last seen by Mr. Gattis Friday night at 11 o'clock, as Mr. Gattis was leaving the store. The men were joking each other, and Mr. Cashman volunteered the remark that he would while away some of the tedious hours by sacking up 200 pounds of sugar some of which he did sack.

Mr. Gattis remarked to the aged watchman that he would be down early this morning as he was preparing a display for the company's booth at the industrial exposition. Mr. Cashman observed that he would not be on hands to give him entrance to the store, and would not let him in if he came. When Mr. Gattis appeared at the store this morning as he had promised and sought entrance he was unable to get the attention of the watchman. At first Mr. Gattis thought that the aged man was carrying out his threat, but repeated hammering upon the door of the East Walnut street entrance failed to elicit any response from Mr. Cashman. It was then that Mr. Gattis made investigation to see if he could discover why Mr. Cashman was not at the entrance. Mr. Gattis' startled eyes beheld the aged man lying prone upon the floor and it was evident at once that the watchman was either sick or dead which could not at the moment be determined.

Mr. Hunt was at once notified and came to the scene, opening the door and finding Mr. Cashman dead, notified Smith & Hoff, undertakers, who removed the body.

A. E. Wolf, department manager, paid high tribute to Mr. Cashman's worth as an employee of the establishment. He said, "The company never had a more faithful employee. He was pure gold. There are mighty few like him."

While the funeral arrangements have not been perfected in detail the funeral and burial will be held Monday morning.

Mr. Cashman was a native of Breckinridge county, Ky., and came from that locality to Alexandria. He came to this city from Alexandria more than eight years ago. During his residence in this city he was employed by the Thalman & Levi company.

The surviving members of the family are the widow, two sons and three daughters as follows:
Clarence Cashman, of Morgantown, Virginia; Geyer Cashman, of Toledo; Mrs. Clarence Cashman who resides at home; and Mrs. John Irvin, of Anderson—Kokomo Daily Tribune, Kokomo, Ind.

LIGHT PLANT SUP- PLIED WITH COAL

Resort to Country Mined Coal
Company Paying $6.50 a Ton
Having Perilous Times.

The coal situation at the Cloverport Light and Ice Company has been improved in the last few days. The company has been supplied with coal from the country coal mines about here which enabled them to furnish day and night current since Friday.

The latest reports from the miners strike in the Western Kentucky district is to the effect that the miners at the Jennings coal mine have gone to work, and a settlement with the Baskett and Southerland Mines is near at hand.

When the Cloverport Light and Ice Company put in its light plant about ten years ago, the company paid 85c a ton for coal. Today they are paying $6.50 a ton aside from the freight and the extra expense of telephone messages, etc., which it takes in order to get coal at all. The company's expenses have increased to such an extent that, in conformity with a statement made by one of the directors, the light plant will be compelled to increase its rates and unless it is supported by its patrons, the plant will likely be forced to close until conditions improve. A meeting of the directors will be held this week to determine upon a plan for increasing the resources to equal the expense.

HOLDER-ALDRIDGE CASE IS SETTLED

Compromise Made and Settled in Progress of Taking Depositions in the Case.

The suit of Isreal Holder's Administrator against Mr. and Mrs. Ed Aldridge, of this city to set aside a sale of deceased's house and lot by Holder in his lifetime to the defendants on account of gross inadequacy of price and undue influence used by defendants on account of his state of mind—was compromised and settled, in the progress of the taking of the depositions last week, at Mr. V. G. Babbage's law office here.

The proposition of a compromise came from the plaintiffs and was to the effect that the original sale of the property as made between the parties be upheld, and that the claim of the defendants for care and maintenance since last fall be fixed at $500.00 and also a further sum of $200.00 paid and acknowledged in the deed making a total of $700.00 paid on the original agreed price of $1,200.00.

Mr. Mercer represented the plaintiffs, and V. G. Babbage, as attorney for the defendants.

GINGHAM DROP- PED 20 PER CENT

Fancy Dress Gingham at 35c
Are Quoted at 27 1-2 Cents.
Quotations Received in Louisville.

Louisville, Sept. 19. (Special)—Gingham aprons and dresses soon will be de trop in the kitchen once more and silk will resume its place in the drawing room.

Gingham goods dropped 20 per cent in price reports made by Louisville wholesale dry goods houses Saturday. Quotations were received from the mill Friday night and became effective Saturday morning.

Fancy dress gingham, which sold on Friday at 35 cents a yard, were quoted at 27 1/2 cents Saturday. Amoskeag staples, from which blue gingham aprons are made, dropped from 27 1/2 to 22 cents a yard at the same time. Brown domestics showed a decline of 3 and 4 cents a yard, now ranging in price from 16 to 22 cents a yard, according to grade.

There were no price changes quoted at any time during the week on calicoes and sheetings, but all indications point to a similar drop in every line of staple dry goods, following the lead set by the Amoskeag factories Friday.

It is the general belief among wholesale dry goods merchants here that the gingham prices now established will hold through the spring of 1921, with other staples inclining to follow a similar course, stabilizing around a level of 15 to 20 per cent below that now prevailing.

In explanation of the drop, merchants say it is the "natural thing". It is agreed that it was not caused by any attempt by any mills at price cutting. The dry goods market, it is pointed out, again is finding itself within the limitations of the law of supply and demand, with the demand side in control for the first time in two or three years. European mills are at work, supplying much of their own needs as well as returning to the South American markets, where dealers from the United States have held undisputed sway since the early days of the war.

Three shouts for friend Joe Mull. He has bought himself a farm. Now friend Mull I will give you some little advice. Quit the Bachelor Club, get married and go to farming and make a good citizen yet before you die. For when a man dies, he is dead a long time. And another thing Joe: If ever you marry in all your life, Joe, marry a red-headed wife. For the red-headed women are good and true: They would march through fire for the love of you. Once I kissed a red-headed girl. I kissed her on the cheek. Oh, she said, "that kiss it was slop. The next time you kiss me Ben, pop it on the lip."

An Invitation

To see the Authentic New Fall Models in Suits,
Frocks, Skirts, Coats,
Blouses and Millinery.

The downward trend of prices is reflected in every display—what news could be more comforting at a time like this when every feminine heart is a-flutter about new things to wear this Fall and Winter? Prices are much more moderate than they have been for some time. With relief from the high cost wave in sight and with characteristic promptness, this store offers in diversified assortments the forerunners of that eagerly looked for change. One need no longer hesitate about providing herself with the apparel and accessories she would like to have.

TRUE VALUE

At this time of generally unsatisfactory buying conditions, it is emphasized to the thoughtful purchaser that the true value of a corset does not lie in the number of dollars you pay for it, but in the number of days it will wear beyond the life of the average corset and continue to give you the joy of possession it gave the first day you put it on.

ROOSEVELT NOT DISHEARTENED

Cox's Running Mate Says Things Happen in "Threes" Out on Speaking Tour.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for Vice President, who started on his speaking tour in Springfield, Mass., said in his first campaign speech that he was not at all disheartened over the Maine election carrying by such a large Republican majority. Mr. Roosevelt stated that "things happen in threes." He spoke of how Maine went Republican in 1912 and 1916 and a Democratic president was elected. He also said the campaign was young yet—still six weeks to go—and the people would not continue to be fooled in that length of time.

In referring to President Wilson, Mr. Roosevelt spoke of the general tendency of people to discredit the Wilson administration. And that it seemed to be written in the history of America that at some period in the lives of all the country's great men they have been made the peculiar object of concerted attacks. He compared Wilson's administration with those of Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Cleveland and Theodore Roosevelt.

CANADIAN FARMERS ENJOY EXCESS PROFITS

More Than $35,000,000 Distributed in Canada.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 13.—More than $35,000,000 just distributed by the Canadian Wheat Board as excess profits on last year's crop was like finding money to Canadian farmers.

Every farmer whose wheat the board sold is being paid at the rate of 20 cents a bushel on participation certificates which were issued at the time the wheat was delivered. This represents the surplus over the $2.15 a bushel which the farmers were paid originally. The entire excess profits were pooled and distributed pro rata. A further distribution on a basis of an additional 10 cents a bushel is announced for some time in September or October. This final payment will bring the price of last year's wheat up to $2.55 a bushel.

The windfall was an especial cause of jubilation among the new prairie farmers in the areas of heavy settlement on the Canadian National Railway's transcontinental line, who are just getting a start in their new homes. The price of $2.55 is the highest the farmer ever received for his wheat in the history of Canada.

IN MEMORIAM

An appreciation of the life of Mrs. Martha B. Smith, who for many years was a faithful member of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Cloverport Methodist Church.

For long years she has been our friend. She was so modest, so unassuming, so faithful, so brave, so full of love, and a smile of encouragement for everyone. Often in prayer we have heard her voice in communion with her Lord, which we knew to be words of sympathy. Now her voice is changed to a great hallelujah to Him who gave her this great impress of the spiritual life.

In all of life's trials she was brave and triumphant. She took motherhood tenderly upon her heart, which is the sweetest blessing in life. We pray her teaching be a comfort and a sustaining power to her children in their earthly trials, and may they follow in their dear mother's foot-steps of loyalty and devotion.

In her service to her church, her beautiful missionary spirit, her songs and fervent prayers, her life long espousal to the temperance cause known by the little bow knot of white which she wore, all proved to the world her devotion to the Master's work.

Let us think it was God's time to call her, and His will be done. Praise God for the example of her life and that she has won the home He had prepared for her. We who are alive shall hope to some day be with her and see Him face to face and tell the story saved by grace, forever blest.

Mrs. Cornelia W. Fraize,
Mrs. A. R. Fisher,
Mrs. R. B. Pierce

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, Almighty God in His wisdom has seen best to call from our midst our beloved sister, Mrs. Martha Board Smith, Sept. 3, 1920, we feel that it is due the memory of the deceased as well as to the deeply grieved family and friends that we give expression to our heartfelt sorrow at this sad bereavement, therefore be it resolved:

That the Cloverport Methodist Sunday-school has lost a loyal and devoted member, and the Ladies' Bible Class a faithful teacher whose smiling face will be sadly missed.

That we extend to the bereaved family our deepest and tenderest sympathy, and commend them to our Heavenly Father, knowing that He doeth all things well, and whose grace is sufficient for us in all the trials of life.

That these resolutions be entered upon the Sunday-school record, a copy be sent the family, and one to The Breckenridge News.

Mrs. Conrad Sippel,
Mrs. R. B. Pierce,
Jno. D. Babbage.

NAMES G. O. P. MAJORITIES IN THE NEXT CONGRESS

New York, Sept. 14.—Basing his estimate on results of the Maine election yesterday, Representative Simeon D. Fress, of Ohio, chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee, today predicted that the general election would return to Congress Republican majorities of at least 10 in the Senate and at least 53 in the House.

TWENTY KILLED IN BOMB EXPLOSION

Blast in Front of Morgan Office in New York City Does $1,000,000 Damages.

A mysterious explosion in Wall Street, New York City, near the banking house of J. P. Morgan and Company, Wall Street financiers, killed 26 persons, injured two hundred and damaged property amounting to over $1,000,000 Thursday at the noon hour.

Officer workers of the Morgan firm were just hurrying into the street for their noon day meal when a jet black smoke and flame rose from the center of the world's great street of finance. Then came a blast a moment later scores of men, women and children were lying, blood covered on the pavement.

While police toiled for hours seeking the dead and injured, trained investigators were trying in vain to determine whether the explosion had occurred from a bomb dropped in front of the office of J. P. Morgan and company, or whether an automobile dashing into a wagon filled with explosives, had taken its toll.

A letter giving warning of today's explosion was dropped Wednesday morning through the mail slot of the door of the French highway commission. The writer of the warning notice said he thought he was rendering a service to the French Commission by advising him of a catastrophe that would occur in Wall Street about 2:30 o'clock.

Many of the injured were girls working in office buildings. Hundreds of persons were thrown to the sidewalk with the force of the explosion. So far as could be learned no prominent financiers or members of the stock exchange were injured.

ELDERBERRY CROP

New Interest in Long Neglected Wild Fruits.

This is the time of the year when the elderberry and the wild cherry are ripening in the fields and along the byways around New York city. Never before, say the oldest inhabitants of Long Island, were the elderberry bushes so heavily laden or the limbs of the wild cherry so weighed down with fruit.

A woman sitting by the roadside who had just finished filling two large baskets with elderberries, said in answer to the question of a passing stranger, "They are for jelly; make wonderful jelly for invalids and children; my boy was dying and elderberry jelly saved him. Great fruit—great for making jelly."

Around a turn in the road a man was stripping a wild cherry tree of its ripe fruit. "To make jelly of it," he said.

"The woman back there said the same thing of the elderberry," the man laughed.

"Nothing of the kind; she is picking them for wine. She has ten gallons made and hopes to get as much more before the season ends."

"You can make wine too, from wild cherries?"

"Yes," said he smiling, "that's what I am going to do with these. I have five gallons already. Providence helps the man with an empty cellar if he helps himself."

But let anyone seeking such help bestir himself. Competition is strong for again expressing the opinion of the oldest inhabitants, never before were there so many berry and wild cherry pickers afield around the city.

164,000 PEOPLE ATTEND STATE FAIR; GATE RECEIPTS TOTAL $115,000.

Gate receipts of the State Fair last week probably will total more than $115,000 and official figures will show the total attendance to have been in the neighborhood of 164,000 persons. G. Carney Cross, secretary, announced last night.

Workmen spent yesterday on the grounds taking down tents and shipping out exhibits which were not sent away Saturday night. Mr. Cross and a corps of clerks were at the offices on the grounds, checking out exhibits and issuing pay checks to employees who served on the grounds during the week.

The work of balancing accounts was not reached, Mr. Cross said, so that no estimate of what the profit on the exposition would be could be made. W. C. Hanna, Commissioner of Agriculture, returned to Frankfort yesterday. He prophesied that the records would show that all previous fairs had been clipped.

Last year's attendance at the fair totaled 121,600 persons. Saturday's attendance of 22,000 was 4,000 more than on the same day last year.—Courier-Journal.

"How We Cleared Our Summer Home of Rats," by Mrs. Perry.

"When we opened our seaside home last May, it was alive with rats. They'd gnawed all the upholstery. We cleaned them out in a week with RAT-SNAP. I prefer this rat killer because it comes in cake form, no mixing. Saves dirtying hands and plates." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Conrad Payne & Co., Cloverport, Ky., and B. ## FARM AND STOCK

Hall & Beard shipped from Holt, Saturday, Sept. 11 fine car load of White Face and Durham cattle, average 900 pounds. They are also feeding 47 head of hogs and have the finest crop ever raised in Holts Bottom.

Farmers are now making hay—cutting tobacco, making sorghum and plowing for wheat while the sun shines. The weather this week started off fine for farm work. And the farmers are taking advantage of it. The hail storm of last week was not near so bad as reported.

Lum Davis was showing Monday a stalk of sugar cane 13 feet long grown on his farm near Hardinsburg. Said he had 1 1/2 acres all the stalks the same height. W. R. Moorman & Son showing a stalk of silo corn with 7 ears on it.

Will Jolly reports as good a crop of tobacco as he ever raised. It is all cut curing in fine color and condition. He estimates his crop at 5,000 pounds.

J. F. Lewis and brother, A. C. Lewis, of New Albany, Ind., were in Hardinsburg, Monday to see their father, James H. Lewis, who is blind but in splendid health, stout and vigorous for a man of 87 years.

Deputy Sheriff W. C. Pate made Sam DeJannette rural route carrier on Hardinsburg Route 3, very happy the other day by presenting him with a $5 bill for good services rendered. More patrons on rural routes should remember their carriers. They do a wonderful service for a community in many ways.

C. Vic Robertson was one of the judges in the saddle and harness rings at the Bowling Green fair, also at the State Fair in Louisville. Mr. Robertson has the reputation of being one of the finest judges of saddle and harness horses in the state. He also has a reputation outside the state. He had a call to go to the State Fair at Springfield, Mass., to act as judge in the saddle and harness rings at that fair, but could not go on account of other engagements which kept him at home.

Tice Miller, Gardner Board, Charles Miller, Zennie Frank, Parks Miller and son, Harvil Lesieur Miller attended the State Fair last week.

John Miller the King Tobacco Buyer of Breckinridge county attended the State Fair for one day.

Mrs. Wilkerson, proprietor of the Glen Dean Hotel has given up her lease and moved to Owensboro.

W. C. Cane, of Lakeland, is visiting his family at Aytel. Says he has a nice job at the hospital and is well pleased.

The Breckinridge News goes into over 1,200 families in Breckinridge county every week besides into over 500 families outside of Breckinridge county. This makes it one of the best advertising mediums in the county.

This makes it possible for you as an advertiser to reach at one cost the greatest number of possible consumers in the county for nearly everybody in the county reads it.

Forty-three of the 50 Nations of the world are now members of the League of Nations, and China will be a member soon. The six Nations that have not joined are Germany, Austria-Hungary, Turkey, Russia, Mexico, and the United States of America. Aren't we in lovely company!—Boston Globe

Ernest Robertson returned from Louisville, where he bought 2 loads of feeding cattle. He says it is a fine time now to feed cattle with feed so plentiful and cattle advancing all the time.

D. T. Wilson, Basin Springs, was in Hardinsburg, Monday on business. Mr. Wilson is feeding on his farm near Basin Springs, 75 head of Duroc hogs all of his own raising, except about 7 head. It is a fine looking prosperous bunch of hogs. Well bred hogs or cattle always show in their feeding.

"Blackie"

By Mary Collins Terry.

Once upon a time there was an old mother hen who had twelve baby chicks. They were all fluffy and yellow except one who was so black that he was called Blackie.

Every morning the little girl who lived in the big farm house came out to feed the chicks.

"Cluck, cluck, cluck," said the old mother hen, and "Peep, peep, peep!" cried the baby chicks as if they were saying "thank you" to the little girl for taking care of them.

"Peep, peep," said Blackie, "now that I have had my breakfast I'm going to take a journey." And away he hopped from his mother and little brothers and sisters as fast as he could go!

By and by he came to a hole in the fence and out he went. He found

SENATOR HARDING IN A SEA OF TROUBLES

If Senator Harding was perfectly sane on the League of Nations he would come out in a straight forward manner and declare either for it or against it.

If he has no definite and distinctive opinion on this great question then he is entirely unfit to lead a great party. If he has definite opinions on the subject and is adroitly concealing them for the purpose of deceiving a faction of his party then he is unworthy to be the President of the country.

His own utterances convict him of either insincerity or else without a distinctive opinion on the League of Nations.

In his speech of acceptance he pleased Hiram Johnson and Borah by practically declaring against the League of Nations. In a speech shortly after that he declared, "Cox is for it and I am against it." He evidently displeased many of his party leaders in this position for he has been backtracking ever since. He declared he was for a separate peace with Germany and now declares against a separate peace.

He then admitted the necessity of an international agreement to maintain the peace of the world and suggested the Hague Tribunal with teeth in it, when his party had most seriously objected to the League because it had teeth in it.

He then takes a step forward and declares that he is in favor of the League so amended or reconstructed as to safeguard American interests. This last utterance brings Senator Knox who is as much against the League as Borah and Johnson and Senator Knox goes away satisfied with Senator Harding's position. Following in the steps of Knox comes Wickersham, a League advocate, and he also announces that Senator Harding's position is satisfactory to him.

Every time the Republican candidate touches on this question he changes his attitude but never makes it clear.

He seems to be trying to so straddle that he will not lose either the League advocates or the League opponents in his party. He is either trying to ride two horses or else he doesn't know which horse he is on.

We hope and believe that the time is past for a candidate to be successful who undertakes to deceive.

Everybody knows where Gov. Cox stands on this question and nobody knows where Harding stands.

He is conducting on the most vital issue before the country a campaign of subterfuge, evasion and insincerity.—Elizabethtown News himself on the nice green lawn and very near a lovely big flower bed full of pretty red and yellow tulips.

"What a fine world this is," thought Blackie, "I'm glad I ran away from the old chicken yard, for it was never so wonderful as this." With that he began scratching around the tulip bed to find something more to eat.

Just then a terrible noise sounded quite near him.

"Bow, wow, wow!" It was the little girl's fat brown puppy who was jumping about on his funny big feet, his tongue hanging out in much excitement.

"What are you doing out of the hen yard?" he said "Go right back or I shall make you!"

"Peep, peep, peep," cried frightened Blackie and away he ran without looking at all to see where he was going.

Before he knew it he hopped right into the middle of a puddle of water. Little chicks do not like water at all, so poor Blackie was more frightened than ever! He fluttered his little wings, took a great hop and up he jumped on to a smooth stone in the middle of the puddle.

"Peep, peep, peep, Mother, Mother!" he cried. But mother hen was far away in the hen yard and could not even hear him.

The old tabby cat was curled up in the sun on the steps of the farm house porch, not far away. The little girl had given her a good saucer of milk and she was napping after her breakfast.

"Peep, peep, peep!" cried the baby chick from his stone in the puddle. "I want my mother!"

The old tabby cat heard him and came down to see if she could help. She put one paw in to the water, but drew it out in a hurry and shook off the drops, then she sat down as if she were trying to think of some other way for tabby cat did not like to wet her feet.

"Peep, peep, peep! I want my mother, I'm afraid I'm going to drown." Bang! went the screen door and down the porch steps ran the little girl! How she did laugh when she saw little Blackie and the trouble he was in.

"Never mind, Blackie, I'll take you back to your mother," she said and picking him up very carefully, she carried him back to the old mother hen.

When whiskey was selling for 10 cents a drink in Girard, O., drunks were fined $5 and costs. Mayor Blackstone says that a man who can afford to pay 50 now for a drink of rasin jack should be able to pay a corresponding fine, and so now the fine for drunks is $25 and costs.

SCHOOL NEWS AND VIEWS

By J. R. Menior, Supt.

The July issue of the Kentucky High School Quarterly should be of interest to Breckinridge county teachers on account of two articles published therein. One of the best addresses given in the Breckinridge county Institute this year by Prof. Geo. M. Baker was that under the title "The Artist Teacher." This lecture by Prof. Baker is given complete in the issue referred to above and should be read by every teacher in the county. It gives you a good chance to measure your ability to gather the thought from a spoken lecture. Take the printed article and read it carefully, then grade yourself on the amount of the lecture you have retained since you heard it in the institute. You might then file the article away for future reading. When things go wrong read the article again then ask yourself if you are the 'artist' or a plodder.

The other article of special interest to Breckinridge county teachers is by Prof. R. F. Peters, Principal of the Cloverport Graded and High School. He takes for his subject "The Effects of the War on Public Schools" and deals with concrete facts, not theory. The material for the article is gleaned from the annual reports of 150 city superintendents in the United States in the period from 1915 to 1920. If the war has made no change in your method of teaching, read this article in order to make sure you are not an "old timer." If the war has made a change in your methods read the article to see if the war has had the same effect upon you and your community that it has had in the 150 communities covered by the reports examined. You can not read Prof. Peters' article without gathering new ideas to put into your school work.

"Our Public Schools" is a new book institute work in Breckinridge county. This book has been adopted by Dr. O. T. Corson who has done the Reading Circle books for the year. I have on hand a few of these books and will furnish them to teachers by mail postage paid, on receipt of $1.25. This is three cents less than the publishers will charge you for the book.

Only 58 teachers out of the 113 enrolled in the Institute ordered school journals from the agent who was here. You can not grow professionally unless you read professional journals. Of course it may be that many teachers were already subscribers for various journals, but those who are not now taking journals on educational subjects should do so at once. You might grow without an educational journal, but the chances are you would not grow in the right direction. You can not afford to be a "water sprout" growing out of all proportion to the main branch, neither must you be a mistletoe sapping the vitality from the profession which serves as the host.

A parent writes me to know if there is any law to make children help sweep the school room. I reply that the parents should be able to make the children help care for the school room and property without a law on the subject.

The Webster school, Mrs. Alta St. Clair Hendrick teacher, has raised $26 for the Kentucky Children's Home Society.

The Difference

Alive W. Forsyth, in New York Times.

I hear so many stories of When Mother Was a Girl! She always stood so very good to have her hair in curl. She brushed her teeth three times a day, and kept her nails so clean. And never once forgot that little girls should just be seen.

Now, I'm a very different child. I'd be a nervous wreck. If I couldn't fidget all I want, and talk a teeny speck; If I don't forget I brush my teeth—if I can find the time—And I clean my nails, but they mostly show a horrid edge of grime.

My Mother kept her stockings darned, when she was, O, so small! For roller skates and loop-the-loops she didn't care at all; And playing baseball with the boys—"My dear! It wasn't done!" The tomboy thinks her daughter loves were not considered fun.

My Mother always sat up straight and kept her elbows down. Said "If you please," and "Thank you, ma'am," and never wore a frown; She always used her napkin and never tipped her dish! She didn't whistle in her soup, nor mess up with her fish!

But I'm a very trying child! My manners don't exist. Big Sister says, and tries to head me off when I insist. On picking out the kind I like of candy when there's guests, And paying no attention to her hints and kind requests.

If I wait till the guests choose theirs, my kind will all be gone! I know this by experience, because I've tried it on. Of course my Mother never would have been a Greedy Pig. But if she wasn't 'shamed of me, I wouldn't care a fig. Because I'm sure away down deep (I'll never say it though), What good times meant in Mother's day, they simply didn't know!

Women Must Back League to Avert War

There are 81,000 reasons why the women of America should vote for a League of Nations to preserve Peace. They are your 81,000 sons and brothers and husbands who died in France and Flanders to end war. The war work of the women of America will not be finished until a Democratic President has been elected who will stand back of the League of Nations and bring an everlasting Peace of the World.

It is to be hoped that the women of Breckinridge county will realize their duty to the nation's great issues—and in the coming November election they are most compelling. The peace of the world will once more be in jeopardy if the League of Nations is permitted to fall apart because of our failure to enter it and fulfill our pledges. During the war when the women of this county were working for the Red Cross and giving to the Red Cross it was with the firm belief that we were fighting "a war to end war." We were promised that when the war was won, there would be found a way to prevent all future wars. The way has been found. The League of Nations.

The League is composed of nations who have agreed to settle their differences by arbitration and do all they can to prevent war and promote justice in the world. Thirty-seven nations are now members of the League. The United States is the only great Nation out of it. Why? Because a Republican Senate refused to ratify the Treaty of Peace.

There is no alternative. There is only one League. We cannot select between a League and some other way. Every other method for preserving peace has been weighed and found wanting. Unaided by such international machinery as the League provides, diplomacy, business, education, labor, voluntary courts of justice, even religion, have proved unequal to the task of preventing war.

It is a clear cut issue—Senator Harding, as the Republican candidate for the presidency, proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the Democratic candidate, Governor Cox favors going in.

Counting on the votes of the 80,000 negro women in Kentucky, the Republicans boast that "they'll bust the solid South"—and they will unless every Democratic woman in Kentucky is made to realize her duty—her responsibility—and votes for a Democratic president, and the League of Nations the Second of November.

The women of Breckinridge county must be aroused to the new responsibility placed upon them. The hopeless cry of the Republicans that "we do not want our boys to be mixed up in troubles of every nation in Europe" is but an effort to blind people who are not familiar with the League. Congress alone has the power to ratify war.

The vote has come to women at a most important time. We must not fail to use it.

HOW HE BOUGHT A RURALVILLE TICKET.

The man walked into the Consolidated ticket office to purchase transportation for Ruralville, thinking of the delightful time he would have there on his vacation.

And with him through the doors went hundreds of others.

And inside there was an army of men, women and children, all trying to buy tickets.

And behind the counter the clerks were working like steam engines, answering thousands of questions, consulting timetables, rate books, maps, folders, and yelling through telephones.

Everyone knew where he or she wanted to go, but no one knew how to get there.

A man ran up and down the long lines and tried to hutt in, but it was no use.

It was a strenuous scene.

One man who finally got to the counter said he wanted a ticket to North Emporia, Va.

The clerk had never heard of it. But the man said that it existed.

Then the clerk searched books, maps, timetables, consulted railroad officials over the phone, and still North Emporia could not be located.

Then someone discovered that there was an Emporia, and the man said he guessed this would have to do, and so he took a chance.

And all this took time—O, a lot of time.

And then there was the woman who wanted to go to Reading, Penn.

She insisted on knowing if the 9:18 a. m. left on time—and wondered if her folks would be at the station to meet her.

Then she wanted to know if she could get a chair in a parlor car, and the clerk didn't know, but thought not.

He called up the parlor chair people who said they didn't have a chair left.

Then the woman wanted to know why they didn't put on more cars or build more chairs but the clerk gave it up.

And all this took more time.

And then there was the woman who had been at the counter an hour or so, and who had asked 872 questions, who finally, when her tickets were handed her, found she had left her pocketbook at home, and asked the clerk what she would do.

And this consumed more time.

And then there was the boy who was sent to get a ticket for Deer Park, but who could not remember whether it was the one in Massachusetts, Maryland or Long Island, but who had the clerk look up statistics, trains etc., on all of them so he could tell his boss.

And this ate up a lot more time—aye, much more.

And incident after incident like this continued to happen.

And they all took up time.

And the man who wanted a ticket for Ruralville paced up and down like a tiger in a cage.

And he continued to pace—and then pace some more.

From out behind the counter came the voice of a clerk and he said to the man who wanted to go to Ruralville: "You are next, sir."

And with a sigh the man answered "Too late. Too late."

"Too late?" repeated the clerk.

"Yes," said the man. "My vacation is over."—Tom W. Jackson in Brooklyn Standard-Union.

VIRGINIA FARMERS TAKE WEED BACK TO BARN.

Danville, Va., Sept. 20.—General dissatisfaction among tobacco growers with the prices ruling at the opening of the new season today, resulted in scores carrying their tobacco to the barns. Tobacco that brought $80 to $90 per hundred pounds last season but opened at $30 today, while the common grades predominating on the floors brought from $8 to $17 or half of last years prices. The planters declared it cost $36 per hundred to produce the tobacco and declined to sell.

BETTER DAYS FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

Future Is Hopeful If Citizens of Kentucky Take Advantage of Opportunity Presented By New Law

When Mrs. Geo. C. Weldon was asked for a statement concerning the new school laws, which will become operative next November in the election of a County Board of Education, she said:

With the prospect before me of Kentucky's brilliant educational future, it is impossible to resist the pleasing temptation of urging that every man and woman, whether they be parent, teacher or citizen, add their interest, their energy and their support to the Cause of Education. May our glorious State not hold back, but by its every act add impetus through increasing interest in our school system.

MRS. GEORGE C. WELDON,
President of National Congress of Mothers' and Parent-Teacher Ass'n.

Kentucky has sunk discouragingly low in the educational scale, but the present thoroughly aroused interest of the State at large in schools is encouraging and will do much toward pushing us upward. We belong near the top. We must make a place for ourselves there and hold it against all time.

The provision in the new school law for the election of a County Board of Education in each county seems the best solution of the problem of rural education. Therefore, my appeal is especially to women, whether they have children in school or not. Education through schools being the chief preparation for future citizenship, our duty lies in making them as efficient as lies in our power. To women is left the direction of children's education. In a large degree, so you must exert the recent privilege of suffrage in electing to your County Board of Education good, clean, capable and conscientious men who will use every influence to create and maintain a non-partisan Board.

Since the rural school is the great hope for Kentucky's educational rise, you women and mothers must wield a mighty influence both inside and outside the home, through the helpful and organized work of Parent-Teacher Associations. Every school district finds its Parent-Teacher or Mothers' Club a solution to most of its problems, whatever they may be, for it is a combining of the forces of the home and the school for the good of the school and to meet its every need.

Women, familiarize yourselves with the new school law, then form a Parent-Teacher Association in your community, or strengthen the one already formed, for the full enforcement and right interpretation of that law as it is unquestionably the only right method of raising the standard of the rural schools. The attendance officer provided for in the law will solve the attendance problem which has always been a grave one and the appointment of the right person to that position is of vital importance.

As President of the National Congress of Mothers' and Parent-Teacher Associations, and knowing full well the mighty strength of parents and teachers banded together for the welfare of children—our future citizens—I urge upon all women of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, active interest and participation in all helpful ways, in affairs pertaining to our schools. Find the particular need of your community and meet it through a Parent-Teacher Association.

HELP WIPE OUT ILLITERACY

General E. H. Woods, who heads the Farm Bureau movement in Kentucky, urges the farmers to interest themselves in the selection of strong Boards of Education in the following:

All honor and much credit is due to the Kentucky School Administration Law. This wise and timely law leaves it with the rural population of this state to carry out its intention. One of the great objects of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation is to work to the end that the country boy and girl in Kentucky can have just as good schools as have the city and town boy and girl. This I regard as one of the most important steps in order to stop the flow of population from farm to town. Another is to help wipe out illiteracy in this state.

Aristotle was once asked how much educated men were superior to the uneducated men. His reply was, "As much as the living are to the dead." We want our state to have a living population. The Farm Bureau Federation intends to keep clear of political alliances, but we are 100 per cent American and stand for the support of our government in the protection of all the constitutional and statutory

GENERAL E. H. WOODS,
President Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation.

The safety of this nation lies in the education of all of its people. Therefore when the farmers of Kentucky go to the polls to vote in November for the Board of Education of the County, let them see only the welfare of their children, the interest of their state, the perpetuity of their nation, and put the rural schools of Kentucky forever out of politics, casting their votes for the most honest, capable and best qualified persons available for the position.

REPUBLICANS' DAY OF REJOICING

Planned, Labored and Paid For The Great Victory in the Maine Election.

New York, Sept. 14.—Commenting on the result of yesterday's election in Maine, George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee, today issued the following statement: "This is the Republicans' day of rejoicing. They planned, labored and paid for it, and I would not by any utterance of mine rob them of any of their mead of joy. With a splendid organization and with the expenditure of every effort possible to great finances they prepared the Republican state of Maine for this state election in the hope of persuading the country that the trend is heavily Republican in the national race.

Had the Democratic party been presented the same opportunity in a state where the trumpet call of Democracy means as much as the clarion of Republicanism in Maine, we should have made as nearly the same efforts possible with the same psychology in mind.

"We shall have votes for the league in November from thousands of the men and women who supported Colonel Parkhurst. On a certain morning in November our time for rejoicing will come, and in the meantime we gaze cheerfully upon today's Republican demonstration and do not begrudge it to them at all."

FUTURE WORLD OIL CENTER IN MEXICO

Now in Second Place. Of 27 Producing Counties 17 Are American.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Mexico promises to become the oil reservoir of the Western Hemisphere, the Department of Commerce declared today in a review of the petroleum industry in the southern republic. With increased consumption in the United States likely to exhaust producing fields in this country within twenty or twenty-five years, Mexico, the statement said, "offers the most encouragement to the American oil industry, both for present production and geographical situation."

Exhaustion of 40 per cent of the producing fields of the United States, the Department's review stated, has caused Mexico to take second place in oil production, although only about 12 per cent of the potential capacity of Mexican wells is being actually produced.

Oil exports from Mexico during the first six months of 1929 totalled 60,000,000 barrels, an increase of 72 per cent over the previous year. At this rate total exports for the year are expected, according to the Department, to reach 125,000,000 barrels.

Development of the Mexican oil fields, however, is only in its infancy, the review states, adding that of the 231,250 square miles of territory be-lived to contain oil deposits not more than 800 square miles are being exploited. Curtailment of production is ascribed by the Department to lack of transportation and storage facilities and to the unsettled political conditions.

Of the $350,000,000 estimated to be invested in the Mexican oil industry, including $50,000,000 in tankers, about 70 per cent represents American capital, one review says. About 27 per cent is British and Dutch capital and 3 per cent Mexican and other interests. Twenty-seven companies are producing oil in Mexico, 17 of which are American owned; 5 Spanish-Mexican, 3 Dutch and 2 British.

The United States received 71 per cent of the oil exported during the first six months of 1929.

CRIME IN MADRID TO KISS WIFE GOODBY IN STREET.

Madrid, Sept. 13.—A severe reprimand and a warning not to let the misdemeanor occur again has just been administered to a visitor to Madrid, who when he assisted his wife into a cab at the door of his hotel on the Puerta del Sol, kissed her goodbye.

A policeman led him off to face his captain, who informed the offender that ignorance of the law was no excuse, but that he had committed a serious offence against the laws of Madrid, which forbids a man to kiss any woman while in the streets of the city, with or without her consent. He, however, let the visitor off with a caution.

VETERANS MARCH BEFORE WILSON

President Reviews First Parade Since Illness; Foreign Wars Men Parade.

Washington, Sept. 14.—President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, sat on the terrace of the East Wing of the White House this afternoon and reviewed the parade of American Veterans of Foreign Wars. It was the first parade the President had reviewed since he was taken ill a year ago. He was wheeled out in a roller chair at 6:15 just before the procession entered Executive ave. between the Treasury Building and the White House, and wheeled back when it was over, an hour later.

The President was about 30 feet from the level of the sidewalk and back 200 feet from the street, but the warriors could get a good view of his head and shoulders as they passed. From the elbows down the President was out of sight. His hair is almost white, but a ruddy face beamed on the paraders.

For 10 minutes before the parade started to pass in front of where he sat the President enjoyed a book, which he read for a while and then turned over to Mrs. Wilson to read to him.

The executive responded to the salutes of the passing veterans and to the passing of the National colors by lifting his hat.

After passing the White House, the parade went down Pennsylvania ave. to the east steps of the Capitol, where it was reviewed by Gen. Pershing. Sec. Daniels, with Maj. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, also were in the reviewing stand, and the latter addressed the veterans at the conclusion of the parade.

A company of Marines yet in the service, another of the Regular Army and a small detachment of the blue jackets marched at the head of the line but the remainder of the parade was made up of those who had left the vocations of private life just for the occasion and once more marched to the music of military bands. More than 500 posts were represented.

The wounded rode near the head of the parade in automobiles and trucks while near the end of the procession were nurses who had worked in the hospitals of France. Floats commemorating the work of the Red Cross and welfare organizations were the last in line.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

MORE THAN 5,600,000 PAY INCOME TAXES THIS YEAR

Washington, Sept. 10.—More than 5,600,000 firms and individuals are paying income taxes this year, according to figures made public tonight by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. These figures also reveal that practically 3,000,000 taxpayers have already paid their income taxes in full.

The bureau's statement shows that 4,900,000 persons are paying income taxes on incomes of $5,000 or less and that fewer than 600,000 of this number have not paid their taxes in full, choosing the alternative method of paying by instalments. Individual returns for incomes in excess of $5,000 including those in individual and firms, numbered 700,000.

Almost 350 corporations have filed income tax returns, but only 65,000 have paid their taxes in full.

JEFF COMB'S SISTER DIES IN SKILLMAN.

Mrs. James Bright died at her home near Skillman, Saturday from cancer. Mrs. Bright was 67 years old and was born in Spencer county. She was the daughter of Uriah Combs. With her husband, she is survived by an adopted son, one sister and four brothers, J. B. Combs, of Hawesville; Wm. Combs, of Owensboro; Dave Combs, Skillman, and Jeff Combs, of Breckinridge county.

Rev. J. R. Argabright, of Lodi, conducted the funeral services and the interment took place in the Fairview cemetery.

SUFFERED 3 YEARS WITH RHEUMATISM, CATARRH AND STOMACH TROUBLE, SINCE TAKING NO. 40 FEELS FINE

Gary, Ind., April 25, 1919.—"I suffered for over three years with chronic rheumatism, catarrh, constipation, stomach trouble, bad blood, nervous spells, aching limbs, so I could not sleep. Saw an advertisement in the daily paper about Men-denhall's Number 40 For The Blood. Thought I would give it a trial. Al-though I was discouraged, as I had doctored with a number of physicians and tried numerous medicines with-out receiving any benefit. I have taken but two bottles of Number 40. Can eat anything I want without fear and am not near so nervous and am feeling fine. I am now starting on my third bottle. Mrs. Gostine Rainey, 2270 Jefferson St., 40 is demanded in female irregularities, in rheumatic, gouty conditions, malnutrition, auto-intoxication, constipation, liver, kidney and stomach troubles. Believed to remove and prevent gall-stones, appendicitis. Successfully used in eczema and skin diseases. Used with phenomenal success in chronic rheumatism, catarrh, lumbago, myalgia (pain in the muscles, muscular rheu-matism or neuralgia), glandular swell-ing, scrofula, mercurial and lead poisoning, abscesses, sores, ulcers, boils and carbuncles. The best drug-ist in your neighborhood sells Number 40, but if it happens that he does not, send direct to J. C. Men-denhall Medicine Company, Evansville, Indiana, and receive it delivered to you at $1.25 per bottle, six bottles for $7.00.

"Industry, credit, prices, everything seems to be trying to get back to a more normal level, and even labor will eventually undergo some liqui-dation."
This was the statement made by Richard S. Hawes, of St. Louis, pres-ident of the American Banker's As-sociation at Louisville.
Mr. Hawes said that the people were now beginning to economize, after an orgy of senseless spending. This is one of the main factors in bringing down prices, and will eventually bring back normal times, but not the pre-war prices for a consider-able time.
Some months ago Mr. Hawes in a signed statement said that for the average investor U. S. Securities were by far the best and safest. If the peo-ple will now refrain from senseless spending, and invest their money in Government securities, they will bring back normal times much sooner.

NOT A DISEASE BUT A SYMPTOM
To The Sun And New York Herald: I do not think hay fever a disease but a symptom, so that each victim should have some competent person study his particular case. I had hay fever a good many years, and my hope is Mr. Hand will not make a mistake I did and let it run along year after year until it develops asthma.
There is an article in the July World's Work, "A Cure for Hay Fever," which is well worth reading. I understand the New York Hospital, Presbyterian Hospital and Vanderbilt Clinic, all in New York, are making some investigations as to hay fever and asthma.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Representative Martin B. Madden, of Illinois, issued a statement today asserting that 750,000 women relatives of postoffice em-ployees "are shut out from partici-pation in politics by an order instigated by Postmaster-General Burleson."
Representative Madden asserts that the Postmaster-General is responsible for the order of the Civil Service Commission applying to the relatives of Federal employees the rule against participating in politics.

NEWPORT WOMAN SAYS ITS GRAND

Before Taking Tanlac She Had To Spend Half Her Time in Bed—Gains 12 Pounds.

"Although it has been four years now since Tanlac restored my health I am still feeling fine," said Mrs. Jennie Williams, 141 Fourteenth and Central Ave., Newport, Ky., recently.
"Yes, sir, it not only restored my lost health, but I gained twelve pounds by taking it," said Mrs. Williams. "I had been suffering from stomach trouble for at least four years before I began taking Tanlac. My appetite was very poor and I got to where I suffered so much after meals I just dreaded to eat and often went as much as two or three days without eating a thing. I would bloat up badly with gas that pressed against my heart until it palpitated dreadfully and I could hardly get my breath. Then, too, my food felt heavy and caused intense pains in the pit of my stomach. At last, I was put on a milk diet, but in spite of this and the fact that I tried all kinds of treatments and medicines, I continued to grow worse. My nerves were so badly upset I could never get a good night's sleep and always felt tired and worn out in the mornings. I also lost considerable weight, finally getting so weak I could not do my housework, spending about half my time in bed."
"By the time I had taken half a bottle of Tanlac I noticed I was get-ting better and by the time I had finished my fourth bottle I was feel-ing as good as I ever did in my life. I have a splendid appetite, can eat just anything I want and everything agrees with me perfectly. My nerves are in such fine shape I can sleep like a child all night long. In fact I just feel like a new woman, and can do my housework with as much ease as ever. From that day to this I have never had the slightest touch of my old troubles and have enjoyed the best of health. At the time I began taking Tanlac my sister and cousin also started on it, and it did them a world of good."
Tanlac is sold in Cloverport by Wedding's Drug Store, in Kirk by Mattingly Bros., in Addison by L. D. Addison, and in Ammons by Wm. H. Dutschke.—Advertisement.

THOUGHTFUL MISTRESS.

"Childless married couples," said Edith Wharton, the novelist, "are to be taxed in France 35 per cent of their income. A good thing, too. People who prefer dogs to children should be taxed quite out of existence."
"The French dog lovers! I was riding from the Odeon to the Made-line in Paris one day in a motor om-nibus. A fat young woman with a little white poodle sat near me. She raised her hand, and the omnibus stopped.
"The fat young woman then low-ered the window and stuck her little dog half-way out of it, talking a kind of baby talk, or rather dog talk, to the beast and at the same time point-ing gesturing with the plump, bejew-elled hand.
"Hurry up madam, said the con-ductor. "You want to get out here, don't you?"
"Oh, no, thank you," said the fat young woman. "I only just wanted to show dear little Froufrou where her mother lives."

GOV. COOLIDGE TO BE GIVEN AN ALL-WOOL-SUIT.

Gov. Calvin Coolidge, Republican candidate for Vice President, is to be presented with an all-wool-suit from the farmers of three counties in Massachusetts. The wool was selected from the best produced by Frank-lin county farmers. It was washed, carded, spun and woven in a woolen mill in North Adams and is now being made into a suit in Hampshire county. INDIVIDUAL PRES-IDENT WANTED

Senator Hitchcock Declares Cox Will Exercise Powers of His Office if Elected.

New York, Sept. 14.—United States Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, speaking before the Ark-wright club here today, declared Gov-ernor Cox if elected, would exercise the powers of his office as they were exercised by Wilson, Roosevelt, Cleveland, Lincoln, and other strong men of both parties, while Senator Harding, if elected would exercise his presidential powers "under some form of dictatorship by a senatorial obligar-chy in control of party machinery."
"If this question can be fairly con-sidered by the voters," he said, "it seems to me a majority will decide in favor of an individual president, rather than a president acting as a figurehead for combination of sena-tors."
"The Republican managers, relying on the belief that their party is the strongest, have adopted a platform which may be interpreted in several different ways after the election on a number of important issues. They have nominated a candidate of their own choice and have restricted him to his front porch. They have brought before him hand-picked audiences for formal addresses, and meanwhile have devoted their energies to the collec-tion and use of campaign funds to be used in organizing for the cam-paign. They are living up to the idea that all this is necessary is to get out the party strength to insure a party victory."

27,000 GERMAN GUNS ARE SURRENDERED

London.—Report is made by the Allied Commission of Control in Ger-many that the surrender and destruc-tion of German arms and munitions as provided for in the Treaty of Ver-sailles is proceeding in the entirely satisfactory manner, especially with regard to guns, which are being de-stroyed at the rate of 1,000 weekly. To date the total guns destroyed number 27,000. Six thousand still remain.
As to concealed rifles, the commis-sion's report says the Government is carrying out the Spa agreement and is offering rewards for such rifles. There is no reason to suppose that war ma-terial is being manufactured without the commission's knowledge, adds the report.

A Waterloo Boy Does Your Work the Way You Want it Done

The Waterloo Boy gives you serv-ice that pays most—the service you want. It does your work the way you want it done.

Its twin-cylinder engine gives you 12 H. P. at the drawbar, and 25 H. P. on the belt. It burns kerosene, and by means of a patented manifold converts every drop of this low-priced fuel into rugged, posi-tive power.

A pump, fan and radiator cooling system holds the engine at the proper tem-perature for correct lubrication, and main-tains enough heat to insure complete combustion. The radiator holds thirteen gallons. You don't have to stop in the field every few hours of a hot day and fill it. That's real service.

Accessability and simplicity of construction make the Waterloo Boy a real farmer's tractor. Two-cylinder design permits large, rugged parts, also fewer parts. Fewer parts make it easy to understand. It's no trick to care for a Waterloo Boy.

A drawbar shift lever, which enables you to shift the hitch either to the right or left of center, is a great convenience when plowing on hillsides or in finishing lands. Your plows take full cut at all times.

The Waterloo Boy is especially strong and rugged in its construction. It stands up under the most difficult and trying conditions of your farm work. Its various parts are designed to meet every possible strain.

The Waterloo Boy Engine runs without vibration. Its well-balanced weight provides proper traction in soft ground. Hyatt Roller Bearings conserve power by reducing friction.

You have to see the Waterloo Boy to fully appreciate it. Come in and we will show you and tell you why the Water-loo Boy is the right tractor for your farm.

FRANK L. BOYD SENT TO NEW YORK CITY.

Frank L. Boyd, of Owensboro, has been made supervising prohibition agent at New York, it is announced by the internal revenue bureau at Washington.
Mr. Boyd has for several months been chief of the field audit division of the income tax unit at Washington. James Shevlin, whose place he takes at New York, has been transferred to Texas in the interest of the service, the bureau announces.
Mr. Shevlin has been severely criticised in his conduct of the New York agency, but it is probably the most difficult place of all the prohibi-tion enforcement jobs in the country.
Mr. Boyd's record of success at Pittsburg and Nashville was such that he has probably been given this New York post to test his ability as never before. He will have a large staff of men working under his direction — Owensboro Messenger.

CORN FOUND TO BE BEST SILAGE

More Food Value From Corn
as Silage Than Other Crops; Less Waste To It.

Almost any green crop can be made into silage successfully. Much care, however, must be taken to expel the air from such hollow-stemmed plants as the small cereal grains by cutting fine and packing firmly. Other crops, of which legumes are examples, are deficient in the fermentable constituents needed for palatable silage. On the other hand, a few crops, such as the saccharine sorghums, have so much sugar that unless cut at a more mature stage they have a tendency to produce sour silage.

In most parts of the United States more food material can be obtained from an acre of corn as silage than from an acre of any other crop that can be grown. Corn is more easily harvested and put into the silo than crops like rye, clover, cowpeas, or alfalfa, and when cut for silage the maximum quantity of nutrients is preserved. Experiments have shown that corn, when siloed, lost 15.6 per cent of the dry matter, against 28.8 per cent when cut for fodder and cured in the field. Moreover, there is less waste in feeding silage than in feeding fodder, since good silage properly fed is all consumed. When corn is cut for silage the land is cleared and left ready for another crop sooner than when the corn is shocked or is husked from the standing stalk. Corn can be put into the silo at a cost not above that of shocking, husking, grinding and shredding.

Farmers' Bulletin 578 on The Making and Feeding of Silage may be had by addressing the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Also another lot or parcel of ground lying in the rear of a short street, in rear of Lot 31, on the east side of Clover Creek and is known as the mill property.

The purchaser with approved surety or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid; and having the force and effect of a Judgement, Lien retained to secure payment of purchase money. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Approximated debt, interest and cost, $729.22.
Lee Walls, Commissioner.

ELEPHANT BREAKS UP CIRCUS PERFORMANCE

Largest Elephant in Captivity Belonging to Sells-Floto Circus Becomes Enraged.

Salina, Kan., Sept. 16.—Snyder, one of the largest elephants in captivity, stampeded a crowd of 10,000 and wrecked the Sells-Floto Circus here yesterday when he became enraged at the absence of his trainer, and later maddened by a quantity of potassium administered in an attempt to kill him.

After being fed the poison with some apples and marshmallows Snyder attacked the animal cages, hurled thirty feet through the air. The maddened animal then tore through the tents, snapping three-quarter-inch ropes like twine and scattering the crowd awaiting the performance.

Soldiers with army rifles were called and fired several volleys into Snyder's body before they killed him.

The animals had become so unmanageable through fright that they could not be shown in the evening. The other elephants and the circus horses were removed as soon as Snyder began to display ill temper.

"I Got Real Mad When I Lost My Setting Hen," Mrs. Hannan.

"I went to the hen house one morning and found my favorite setter dead. I got real mad. Went to the store, bought some RAT-SNAP and in a week I got six dead rats. Everybody who raises poultry should keep RAT-SNAP." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Conrad Payne & Co., Cloverport, Ky., and B. F. Beard & Co., Hardinsburg, Ky.—Advertisement.

FINDS POLITICES QUIT IN WINDY CITY

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 4.

Editor Decatur Review:

I have been here in Chicago two weeks with eyes and ears open to catch on to anything of special interest to the general masses of folks—in the political arena or ring. If a fellow was in a country graveyard or the remotest wilderness he could hear about as much discussion pro and con among the people in the street, in the business houses, or hotel's as he does here in this presidential election.

Cox-Harding. You never or rarely hear their names mentioned. Most every evening I am loafing about the leading hotel lobbies, among them the Auditorium, the Republican headquarters with their flying banners and occupation of the whole or nearly all of the second floor. And even then there are no small groups gathered in bunches for discussion. Often there are not a dozen people in the lobby of a hotel. To see the large headlines of papers of each issue one would think the woods afire. It may be at points I don't get and don't want to.

Once in a while you hear a fellow throw out a slur to President Wilson as if he was all the works. If asked why he complains of Mr. Wilson's administration, he has no good reason or anything better to offer beyond prejudice, hatred and jealousy of the Democrats occupying any seat of government in northern states or government nationally.

If success of party or administration is to be measured by the money some big concerns have made in all classes of business from bankers, manufacturers, coal operators, and farmers and many others, one would think they would fall over themselves to keep a Democratic administration in power. The many great and wonderful laws for the protection and benefit of the general public that has passed under the Wilson administration is greater than I ever knew in twenty years under the Republicans.

Our new banking system to protect the farmer and the common man and to stave off panics of the country by the money monopolist alone is enough to reinstate them to keep them in power for another term or two if we can get enough congressmen elected to give proper support for real genuine democratic ideas. I don't believe in one party always occupying and controlling the lead of the government state or national.

Bill Thompson by newspaper notice is riding hard on our present governor of this state, who to my observation has made the best governor the state has had for years. Shameful for a man who occupies as high office as Bill Thompson to use such abusive words of the governor of our state. But Bill has the laboring vote of this city in the palm of his hand and can hand it out and over which way he wants from all I can gather from a few expressions on the street.

ODD ITEMS FROM EVERYWHERE.

A widow in Brooklyn returning to her home at dinner time found all her household goods on the sidewalk, and was told that she had been evicted. A crowd gathered. Somebody passed the hat and collected $100 for the widow. Then everybody took hold and helped store her goods in the basement of the Union League Club at the suggestion of the club's steward.

Three mining men in an automobile, having a hard time in the sandy "wash" of Dripping Springs Valley, Arizona, were overtaken by a cloud-burst which lifted the machine and carried it along at racing speed for a mile, where the party was stranded on a welcome bar. When the water went down, they pumped out the machine and resumed their homeward journey.

A model of the Hindenburg line, which has been exhibited in Washington by the Department of History, the State of Tennessee is an accurate miniature, 17 by 37 feet, of a 50-acre section of the battle front in France.

A Baltimore man visiting Detroit on a hot day went across to Canada for a specific purpose, but was so much interested by the sights he saw that he forgot what he came for, until he was reminded as the steamer he was on started on the return trip by seeing on the Canadian shore a billboard with the legend: "Last Chance—Ice Cold Beer, 10 Cents a Pint."
